Abundance

Blossoming Joe-Pye Weed, dancing, butterflies, and frenzied hummingbirds herald the beginning of the end of summer here in the mountains. The corn, tomatoes, and zucchini ripen all at once. It is a season of abundance!

We truly had an abundant summer at The Still Place this year. I smile thinking how cool it would be if I could preserve this abundance. I would preserve the bravery, the surprises, the house of happy play, the discoveries, and the joyful lake splashes for sure. I would preserve the imaginations born of Braeton's forest fairy tales and Maryanne's patient creek dipping and salamander hunting forays.

Writing from Ukraine, I send my love and prayers to you. Despite the hard times visiting us again as a nation, I pray you will recognize the abundance in which you are surrounded. Open your cupboards and look behind all those dusty jars. I think you might find a big jar of love you preserved back there. The time has come...open it and enjoy!

Love, Dr. Dawn

Amazon Smile Charity

Did you know that if you use the Amazon App, you need to renew your AmazonSmile charity every 6 months? Make sure you renew your choice of The Still Place as your AmazonSmile Charity on your Amazon App.

Bereavement Retreat

The Still Place, through the support of Charlie's Heart Foundation and KinderMourn, will be offering our first mother's Bereavement Retreat.

If you or someone you know would benefit from time away to be still with your grief, please contact us at info@thestillplace.org.

This will be a small group of 5-8 mothers. Our intention is to explore grief through art, nature, and spirituality, along with freedom to rest, reflect, and be cared for in a relaxed environment.
